Profile: John Englezos

John Englezos is a freelance photographer, a spoken word poet and Melbourne's 2015 Poetry Slam Champion. A published author, his book 'If The World Were Upside Down' is a collection of thoughtful, hope-filled poetry and short stories to delight and inspire wonder.

John has performed, speaker-coached and hosted for Tedx St Kilda and in 2017 was on the first Australian team to represent at the National Poetry Slam finals in Denver. An avid supporter of the arts, John presents in schools and workshops, mentoring and encouraging other creatives to find their voice and tell their story well.

His work centres around notions of Hope, Identity and Wonder.
