Profile: Deadly Damper

Stuart McCallum is a member and past president of the One Fire Reconciliation Group in Geelong, and is an ever-present feature of many Reconciliation Events, bringing his wattle seed damper mix, his brazier, and a bunch of sticks to give the damper that genuine bush flavour.

Stuart will work together with First Nations friends Steve Verde and Julie Green, to bring us our Deadly Damper on the lawns of the festival, Sunday from Midday.

Join them for a yarn around the campfire and enjoy the Damper on a Stick experience with delicious fillings of jam or honey. A fabulously relaxed way to absorb the vibe of the festival and wind down towards the end of the weekend.
