Ainslie Wills

Ainslie Wills believes in the transformative power of music and through her own music has earned an enviable reputation for writing songs that are musically and emotionally powerful. Combining her unfaltering vocals with profound lyricism and thought provoking melodies, she sets out to create music that is genre bending, unique and personal.

Her music has seen her tour both nationally and internationally, being invited to support the likes of Leon Bridges, Michael Kiwanuka, Hiatus Kaiyote, Lianne La Havas, Vance Joy, Grouplove, Lucy Rose and more. In addition to her own headline shows in Australia, Germany and the UK, Ainslie has also been recognised at slots on Australian festivals; Falls Festival, NYE on the Hill, Queenscliff Music Festival, WOMADelaide, Splendour in the Grass, BIGSOUND and more.

Now a proud Mother in her 40's she's passionate about raising visibility around Motherhood. Ainslie's themes in her music explores identity & belonging: Fitting in or standing out, how we are shaped by society and the strain that it puts on us. She speaks of the weight we carry, the unbearable strain to be something, and the struggle to realise that we are enough; to find our voices, and fight to choose a path that is true against the great fear of missing out. when will we see that all we have is all we need?
