Sonderverso Community

Also known as PastoralHare, Kelly Woods (prev. Skilton) is a queer, disabled, neurodiverse, artist who is passionate about forming flourishing communities. Currently she works for the Uniting Church as the New & Digital Communities catalyst for younger generations.

Exploring what it means to be sacred people in the digital realm, you can find Kelly hanging out with the Sonderverso Community on twitch, discord and at various gaming gatherings, or with an embroidery needle, crochet hook or paintbrush in hand.

Will Nicholas is a Uniting Church Rev. With a penchant for gaming, board games, Geocache and Sci-Fi. He is a serial blogger with a passion for how games can help us build self esteem and community, and how online platforms can be safe spaces for those most vulnerable in offline society. Will is the host of 'Never Odd Or Even,' A podcast that explores the nexus between Faith and Science Fiction; is one of the founders of Omegacon, and the host of Sonderverso, an online community of belonging. Sonderverso is a digital ecosystem where people can find community, regardless of where or when you may call a place home. They create a space for people to connect together, stream and game together, as well as explore faith and lifequestions. We are passionate about creating a safe and inclusive space for all people, no matter where they are in their spiritual journey. Will, Kelly and the team will be documenting Sacrededge.
