Profile: Karen Eller

Karen is the mother of two adult children and currently lives with her wife and two dogs on the Bellarine Peninsula. She is the Uniting Church minister at Drysdale and Portarlington/St Leonards in her third year of service there. Prior to ministry studies, Karen worked as a community pharmacist and later as a hospital chaplain at the Royal Children's and the Royal Melbourne Hospitals. Karen enjoys film, reading, theatre, walking, cooking and until recently was a keen hockey player. Her theological studies have opened her eyes to ongoing colonising behaviours as well as a raft of intersectional disadvantages.
