

2026 sacrededge Cradle of Life

Profile: Paul Banks

Paul is a songwriter, poet and storyteller who is curious about beauty and its capacity to heal. His love of art and curating spaces together with pastoral interests, inspire him to create events that give platforms to the voiceless in our society, while seeking to cultivate communities of compassion and grace in an often reactionary world.

Paul is the creator and M.C. of the Simba Sessions: an intentional pop-up, monthly event of music, poetry, and storytelling that celebrates diversity and creativity and seeks to be a safe space to challenge societal norms, the stories we tell ourselves, and our inherited world views. His time as program coordinator of Sacrededge in 2024 has further influenced his understanding of how the voices from the sacred edge shaped and mould our world.

As part of Sacrededge Paul will be hosting a series of brave and challenging spaces.
