Profile: Sadie

Sarah St James- or 'Sadie'- is a trans woman and spoken word poet. Originally born and raised in Meanjin, she has been based in Naarm since 2018. Her writing explores themes of identity, accountability, sobriety and survival through the lenses of gender, sexuality and familial dysfunction. With a background in theatre, Sarah's work lends itself best to live performance. She has been speaking her poems aloud since participating in 'Ruckus' poetry slams and 'Roving Conspiracies' open mic events in 2014. Sarah's writing has been published in the anthology "In-Flux, trans and gender diverse reflections and imaginings." As well as "Chaotic Musings Volume 3" pronouns- she/her
